Dedicated to a Century of Community Building

To the builders of Evansville College and the community it serves — and to all who, during the past hundred years, gave so generously of their time and substance to help make this a better, more friendly, progressive and livable community.

To the memory of the young men from our campus and our community who, loving life, gave it freely in the defense and preservation of the American Way of Life, and of our homes and our liberty.

To the Veterans of World War II who have returned home, and, in preparation for a more useful life in the community, have enrolled by the hundreds at Evansville College.

To the Future: May Evansville College continue to grow as the leader in higher education in this area; may the city increase in importance as the civic, cultural and commercial center of the Tri-State area; and may they both, working together cooperatively, contribute mightily to the welfare of all.

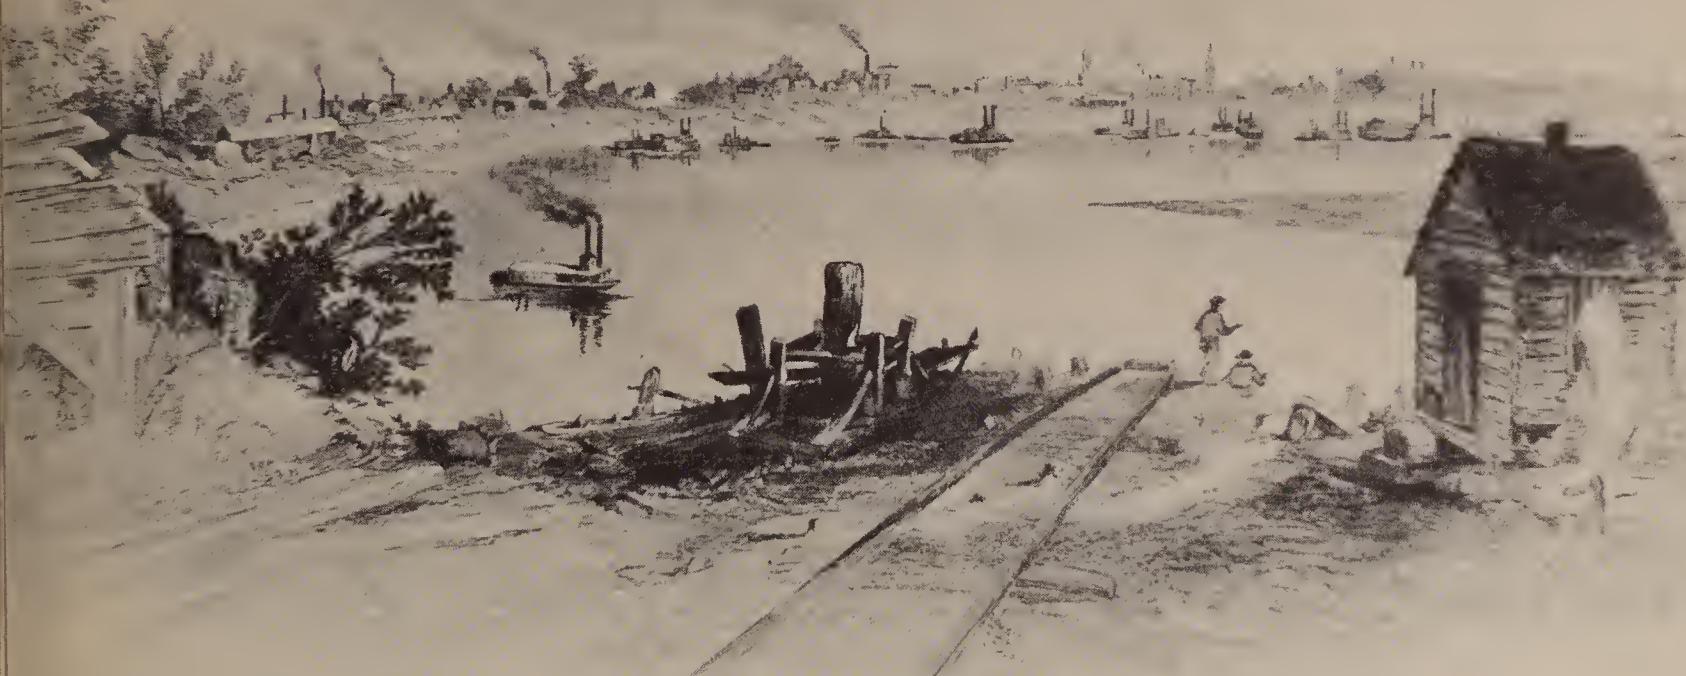

"Laying the cornerstone."

The official seal commemorating the hundredth year of the city of Evansville

—Evansville on the Ohio—

IT HAS been almost 150 years since the Piankeshaw and the Delaware Indians relinquished all claim to the land on which Evansville and Evansville College are now situated.

The treaty with these tribes was signed at Vincennes in 1804 and opened up this land for settlement. Eight years later, in 1812, a colonel from Kentucky, Hugh McGary, came here, chose a spot where down-town Evansville now lies, cleared away some of the forest, and built a small, two-room log cabin. He was the first settler here.

Colonel McGary soon had an increasing number of neighbors, and by 1819 the village had grown to such proportions that it was incorporated as a town. A year before that event, the State Legislature divided Warrick County and named the new county thus formed in honor of Henry Vanderburgh, a territorial judge of Indiana.

Attracted to this thriving town on the Ohio River was General Robert M. Evans, a noted Indian fighter who had served on the staff of General Harrison at the Battle of Tippecanoe. General Evans arrived in 1828, bought a half interest in Colonel McGary's holdings, and laid out the original city of Evansville. It was for him that the city was named.

Just a hundred years ago, in 1847, Evansville had a population of 4,000. On January 29 of that year Evansville ceased being a town and became an incorporated city, by a special act of the State Legislature. The first mayor of the City of Evansville was James G. Jones, who took office on April 12, 1847.

The city was three days from Louisville by river packet. There was considerable interest among the people at the time in the Wabash and Erie Canal which was to be built from the north to Evansville.

But when the canal was finally completed in 1853, it proved to be a failure; and the people lost interest in it and began to talk about the possibility of building a railroad to the city.

A year later, in 1854, an event of historical interest to Evansville occurred in a village in Indiana forty miles west of Cincinnati, Ohio. This village was Moores Hill, and in that year Moores Hill College was founded there. It came into existence largely through the efforts of John C. Moore, one of the sons of Adam Moore, the original proprietor of the town. Moores Hill College was formally opened in 1856 with the Rev. Samuel R. Adams as its first president.

The following year an event of importance happened in Evansville. The city was combined with Lamasco, previously a separate town situated between Division Street and Pigeon Creek. Lamasco was founded by four men, John and William Law, Mr. Macall, and Mr. Scott. It was from the first letters of their names that the town got its name.

Disaster came to Moores Hill College in November, 1915, when Moore Hall burned. In June, 1917, the College closed, never to reopen under that name. During the seventy years of its existence, Evansville had become a thriving city; and it was decided to move Moores Hill College here. This was done, the name was changed to Evansville College, and on September 16, 1919, the College was opened in Evansville.

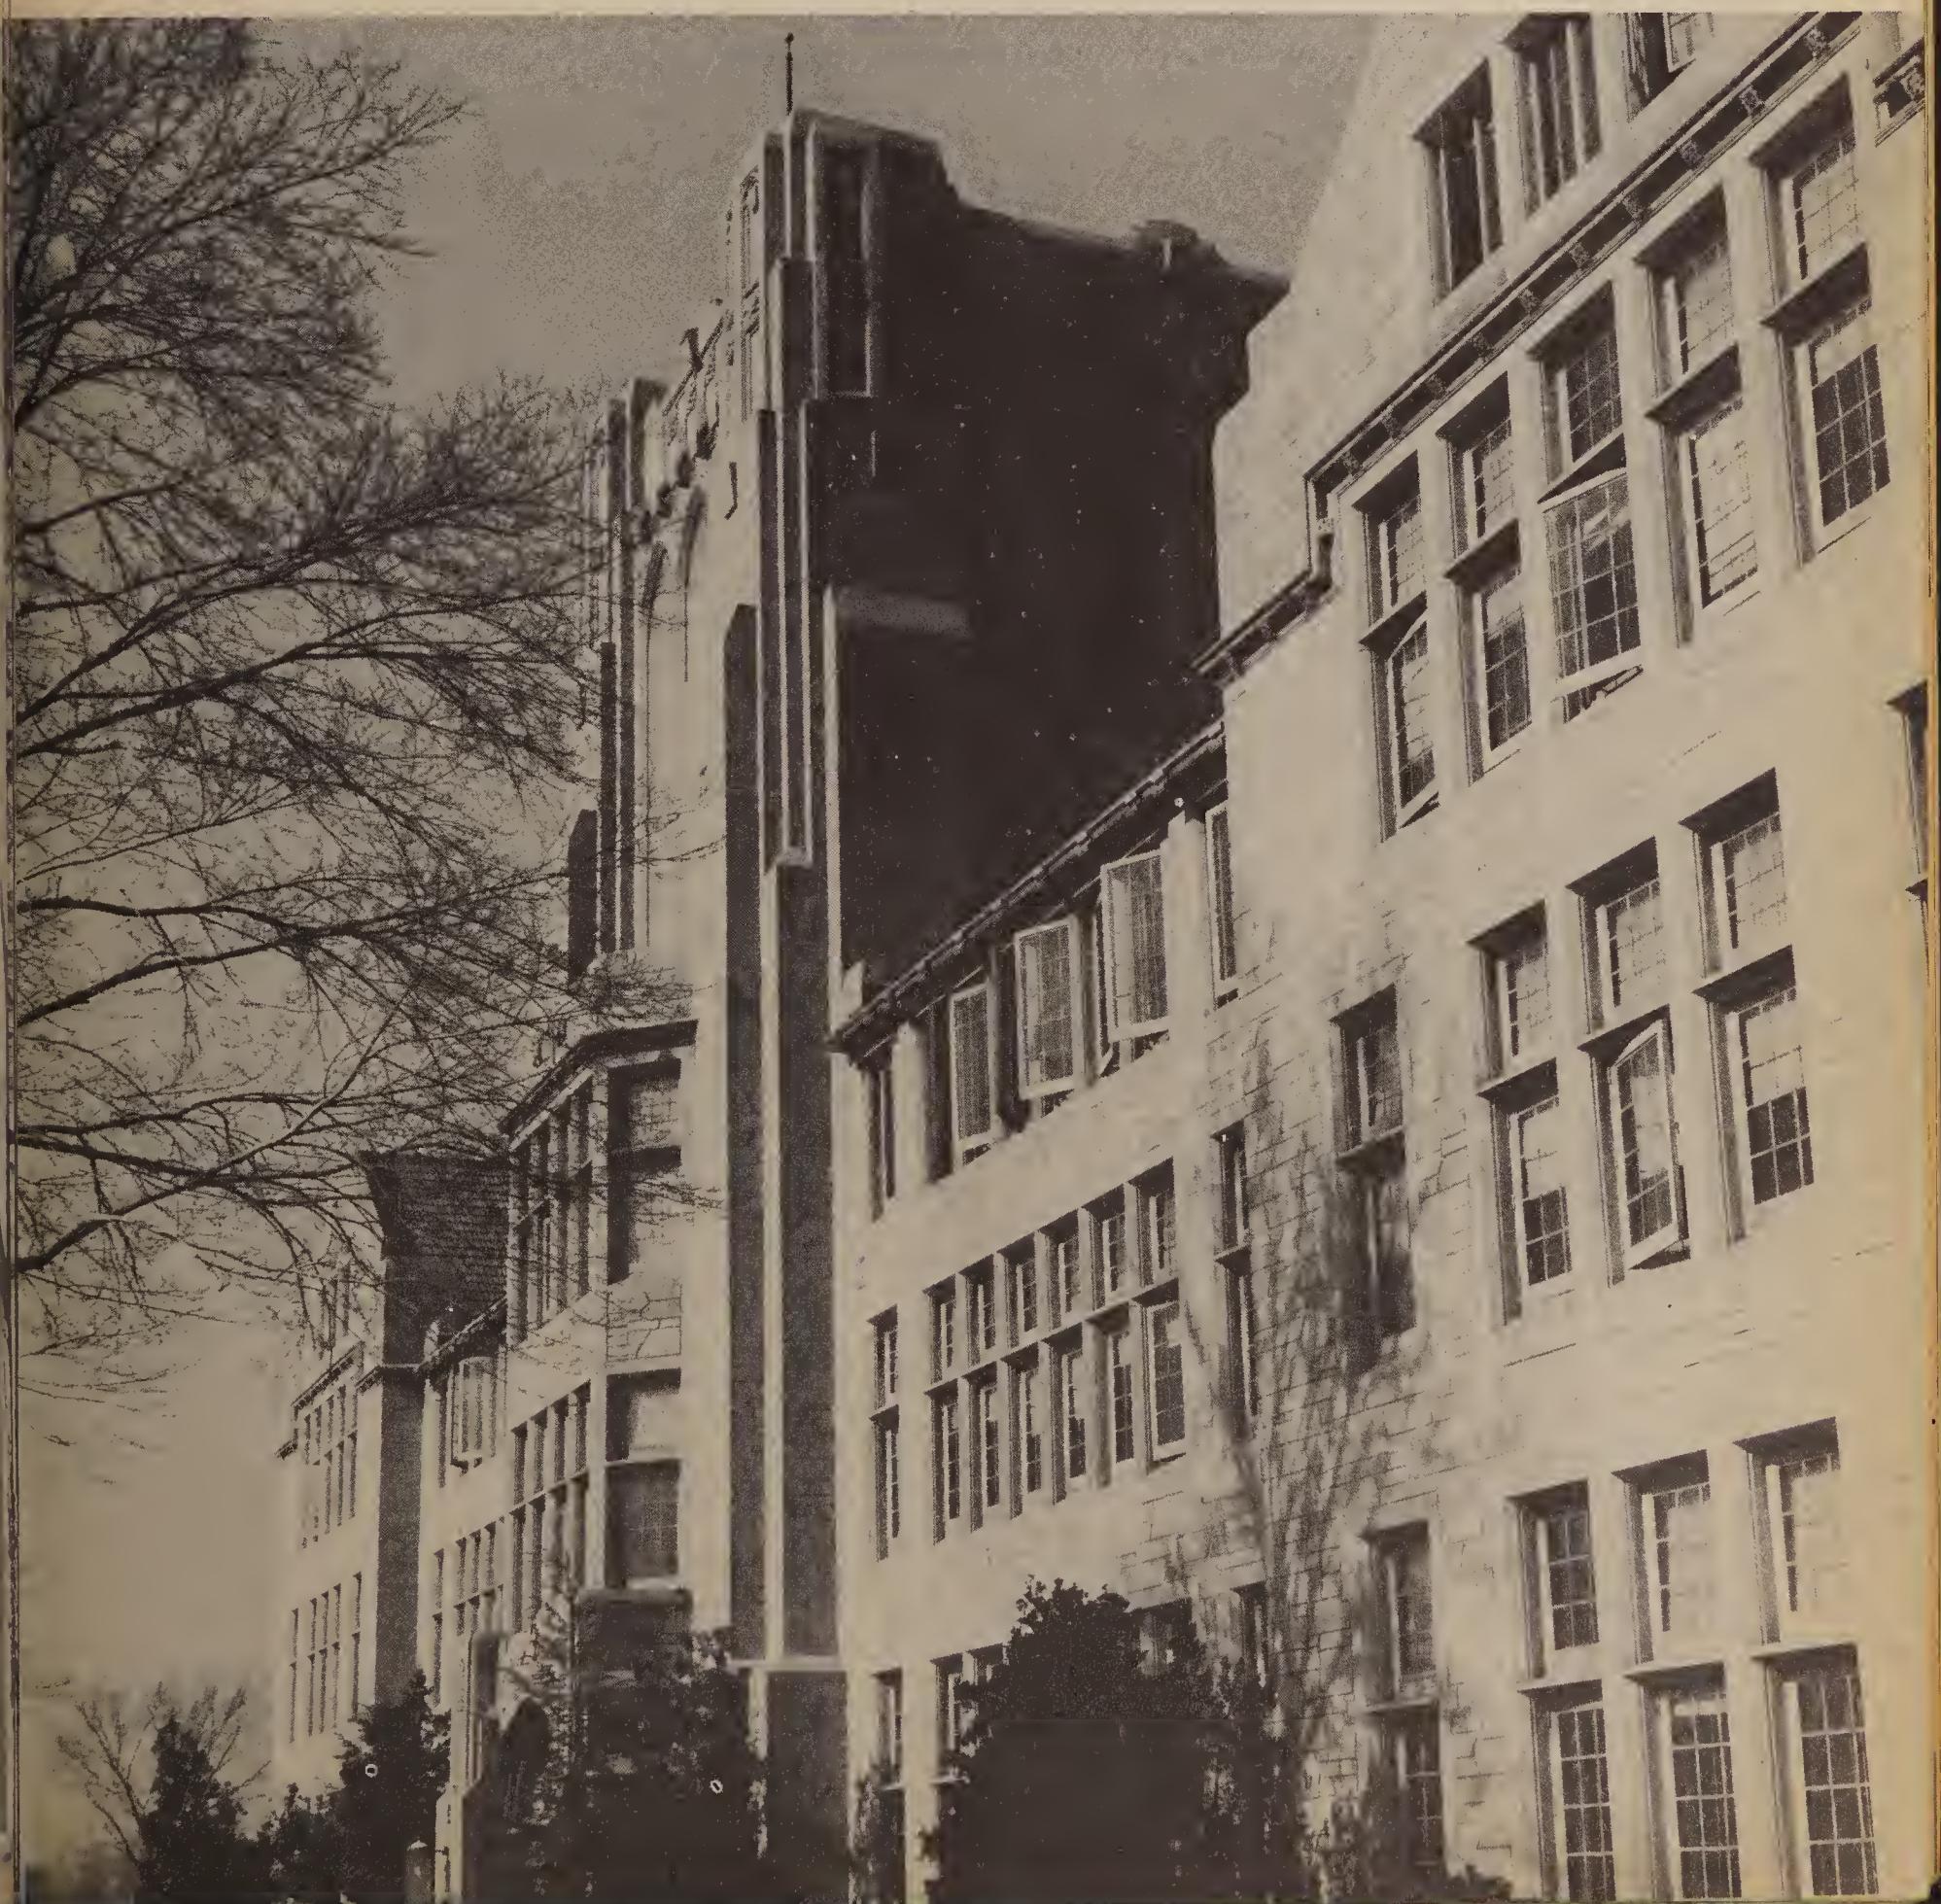

This year is the centennial of the City of Evansville, and in only seven years more Evansville College can celebrate its centennial. Both have grown mightily during the past century, and for both the future holds much promise.

School of our fathers known of old

Our Alma Mater we revere

We give thee loyalty untold

We love thee more and more each year

And when sweet memories of thee return

Of lessons learned, of friendships made,

The spirit in our hearts doth burn

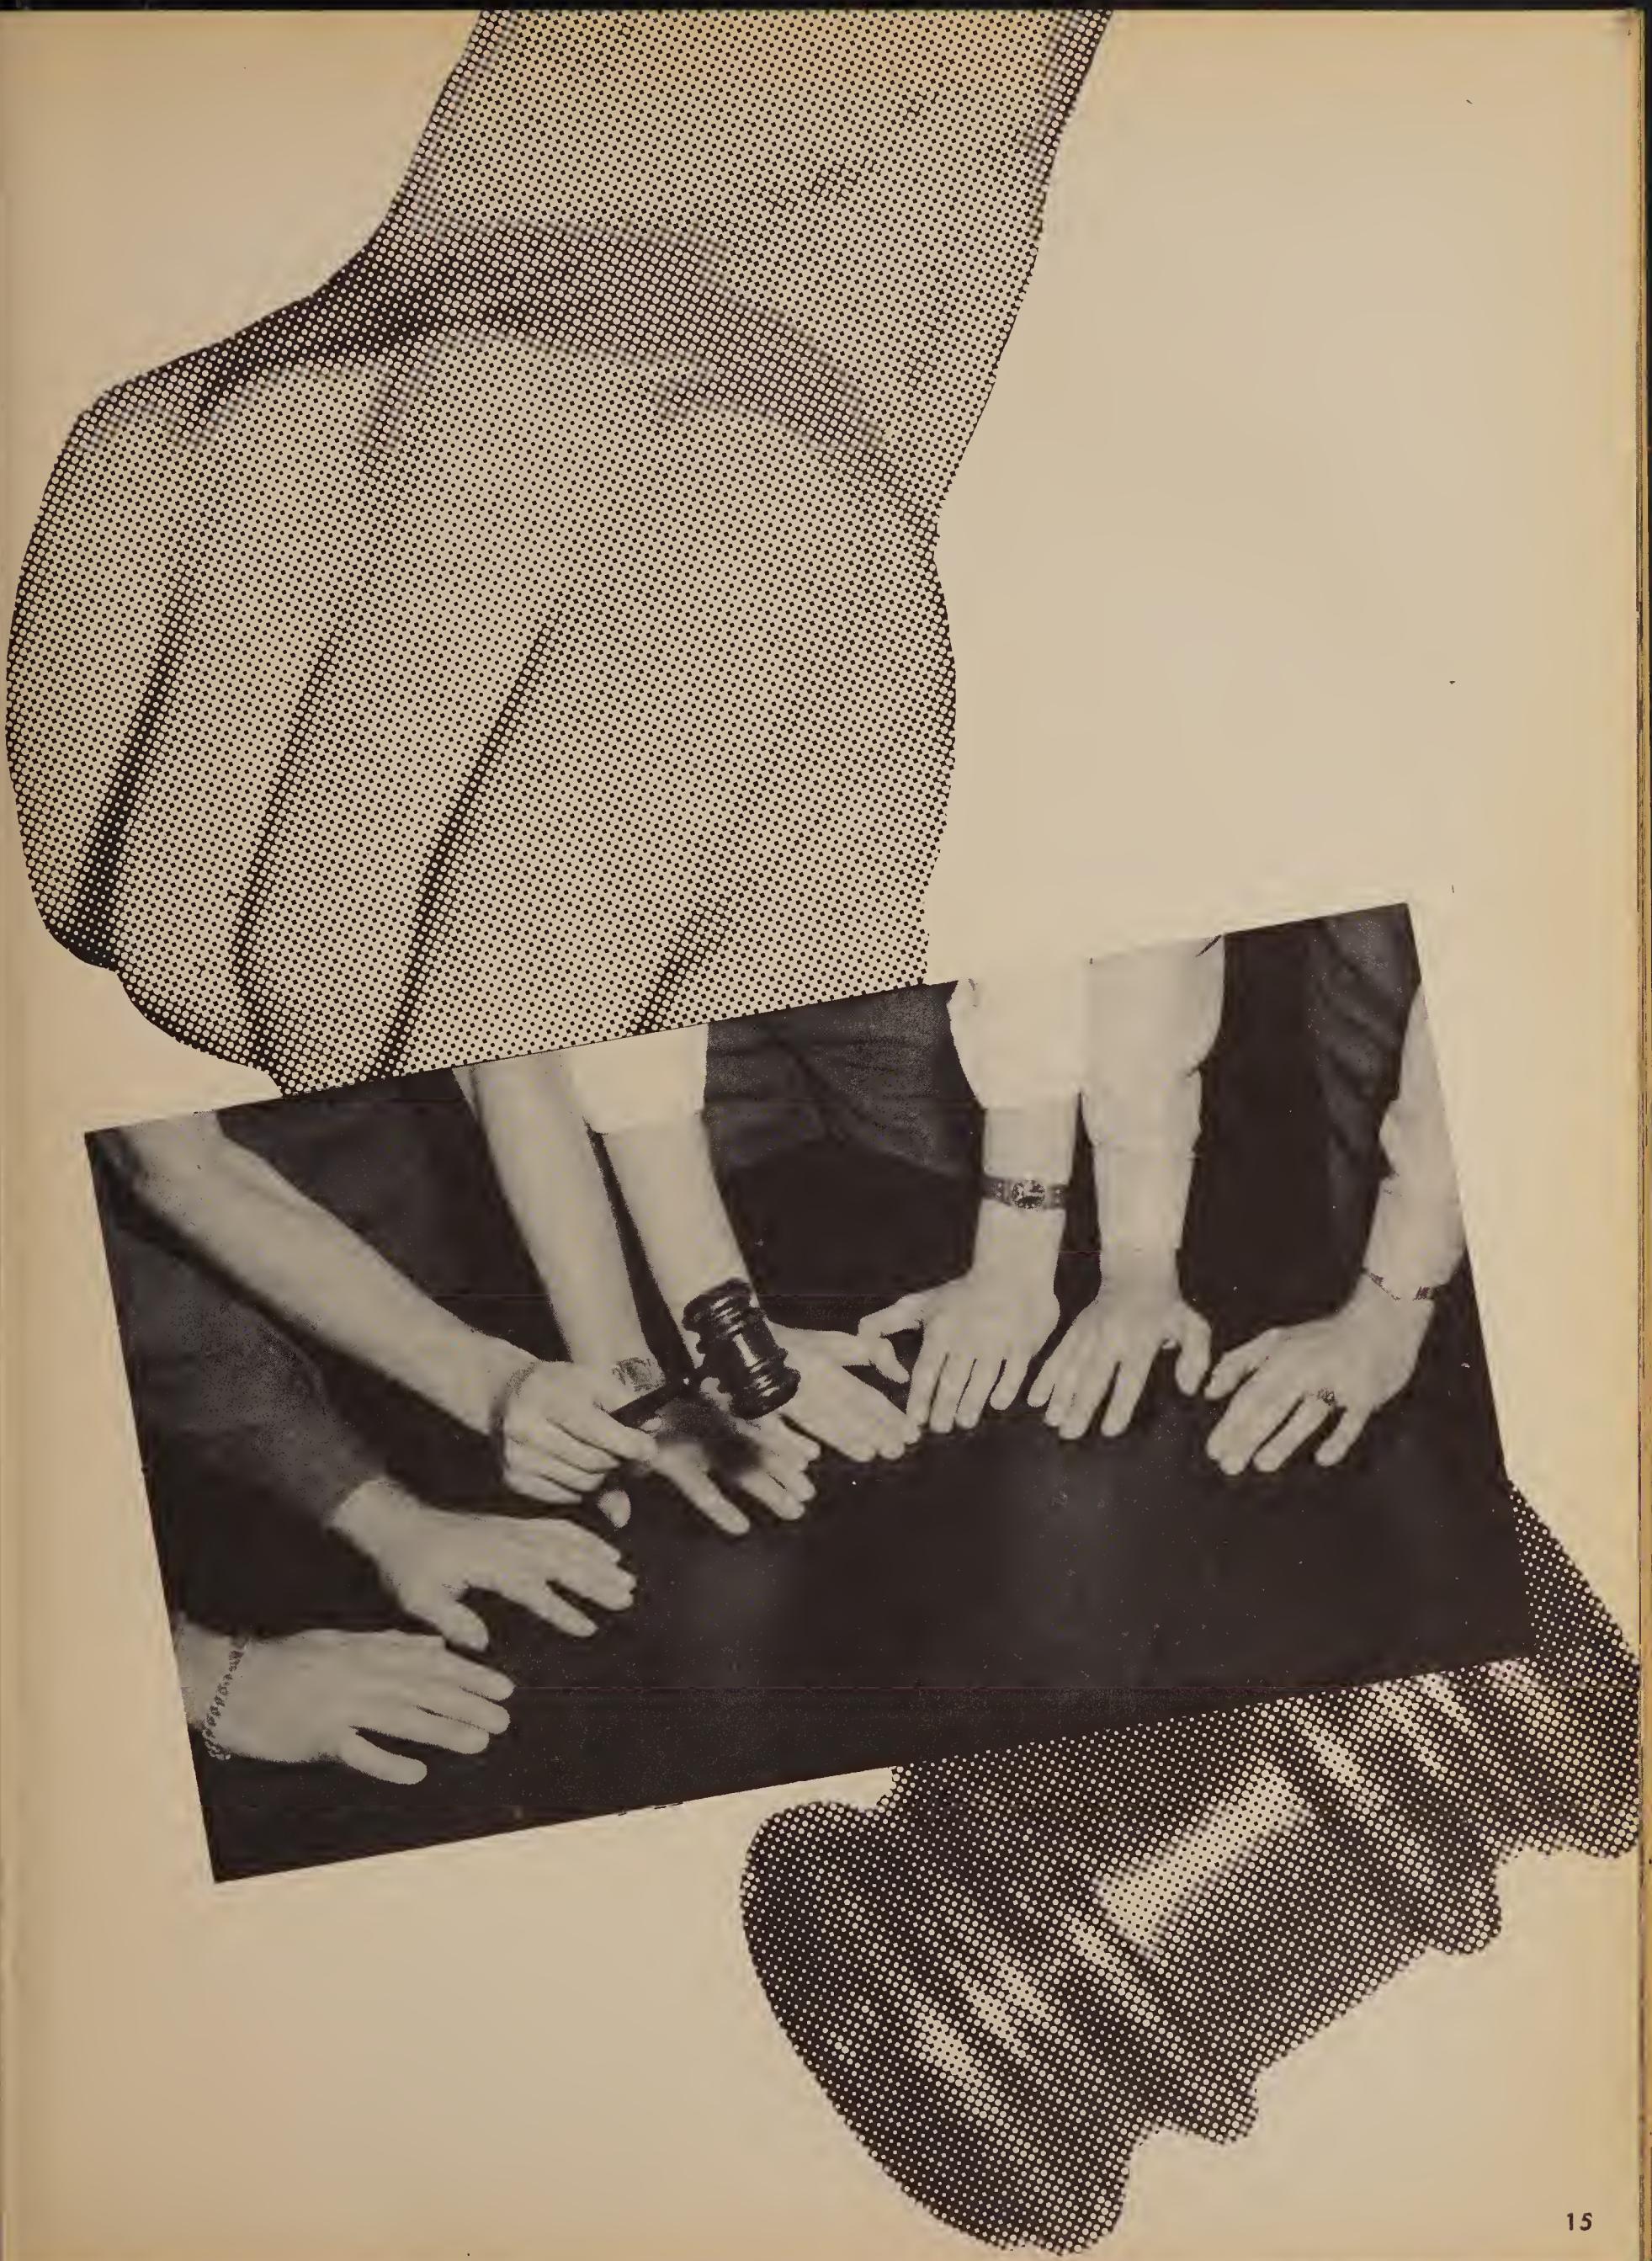

We face the future unafraid

ADMINISTRATION

Present Administration Building

Lincoln B. Hale's seventh year as president of Evansville College finds him active and enthusiastic over the future of the College and deeply interested in the centennial of the city of Evansville.

Hale expands college program in collaboration with trustees—

The cooperative inter-play between the College and the community in which it is located is ever-increasing, with the community supporting the College and the College serving the community. Evansville College has been, and is, continually striving to discover the higher educational needs of the city and the Tri-State area and to fill those needs. To improve its service in both a cultural and vocational way in a balanced program, without emphasizing one at the expense of the other, the College has adopted "The Urban Pattern," which carries out the aim of teaching both how to live and how to earn a living. Now in the midst of an expansion program, Evansville College will continue in an even greater degree in the future to be a truly "people's college."

This year, 1946-47, is the greatest so far in the history of Evansville College. Enrollment has increased tremendously. In the first semester, 1,505 enrolled in the day classes as compared to 410 in 1945-46. Evening College enrollment the first semester reached 774, as compared with 503 for the past year. Students taking private music lessons increased from 390 to 528. The total enrollment, including classes for nurses, was 2,586 at the beginning of this college year. This number was swelled to more than 3,000 for the year by new students entering the day and evening classes the second semester.

The faculty was increased proportionately. The staff of Evansville College numbered 210 this year, including 11 administrative officers, 69 full-time teachers, 44 part-time teachers, 18 teaching assistants, and 68 secretaries, cafeteria workers, custodians, and maintenance men.

The new Science-Engineering Building will be completely ready for use at the opening of the fall semester next September. To meet the challenge presented by the hundreds of veterans wanting to enroll last fall, preparations that were almost feverish were made with all possible speed in advance of the opening of the fall semester. Among these was the enlargement and remodeling of the T-Hut into a spacious cafeteria; re-erection on the campus of the Evansville Red Cross Canteen as a Veterans' Lounge; the construction of 18 Federal temporary housing units on the campus; remodeling part of the old gymnasium to make accommodations for most of the music department; renting part of the Armory for classroom use; and securing Parkside for temporary housing.

The challenge was met; and for the efficiency with which it was met, the President and the other administrative officers of the College deserve a hearty "Well Done."

ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD

The purpose of the Student Government Association is to give every student on campus an opportunity to participate in the collective direction and control of the common life and work of Evansville College, and to enable the student body to cooperate with the faculty as a group in the Student Faculty Federation. Coming out on top in last spring's student election were Bill Davis, president; Brenda Helming, secretary; and Morgan Jones, treasurer.

These three Student Government officers automatically assumed positions on the Administrative Board and met with the president and three deans of the College to serve as a Board of Review, a Court of Appeals, and assume all responsibilities arising in connection with the Student-Faculty Federation.

Intersociety Council is a tripartisan council that meets monthly to discuss society matters brought before it. Its aim is to establish harmony and fair play among campus sororities. The council is composed of the president of each sorority plus one representative from each sorority. Miss DeLong, Dean of Women, serves as an ex-officio member of the council.

The Women's Council of Evansville College was very successfully guided through the year under the presidency of LaVerne Heady, the first semester, and Janie Garrett, second semester. The council is composed of all women on campus and is responsible for the use made of the Women's Lounge, the organization for first-term freshman women, Gamma Delta, and the May Day festivities. The Council is most ably directed by the Dean of Women, Miss Wahnita DeLong.

Two members from each fraternity and two unorganized men form the Executive Committee of the Men's Council. Headed by the Dean of Men, Prof. Morlock, it acts as a link between the men's groups, serving the common interests of all men, and integrating their activities.

CAMPUS NOTABLES

These are the seven men and women who are chosen by the faculty this year as the students who most represent the ideals of the seven lighted candles in the seven-branched candelabra on the Evansville College seal.

The qualities which determine who shall receive one of the highest honors Evansville College confers upon its students are: economic development, recreation, intellectual development, spiritual aspiration, aesthetic appreciation, health, and social fellowship.

CAMPUS LEADERS

Three men and three women have been chosen by the three deans of the college, as exemplifying the qualities of leadership that we all strive for. These are our Campus Leaders. It is their ideals, their inspiration, enthusiasm, and their personalities that have helped direct the campus life of E.C. during their years here.

Beta Alpha Kappa

Beta Alpha Kappa was reorganized in May 1946 by seventeen people; by January 1947 the membership was 157, the largest organization on the campus.

The purpose of the fraternity is to cement the professional interests of all types of business, to raise the standards of business as a profession, and to offer associations within the profession for all phases of business. Once each month the fraternity is addressed by a Business Specialist, eminent in some particular field. Accomplishments this year have been launching a placement bulletin for graduating seniors, and sending them to approximately five hundred of the outstanding businesses in the Midwest, in an attempt to get graduates placed in jobs of their choice. In social services a tea dance was sponsored for the student body.

Officers for the year were: George W. Johnson, President; Earl Deig, Vice-president; William Owens, Secretary; James Clayman, Treasurer.

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, which was organized at Evansville College in June, 1929, bears the motto "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

The requirements for membership in the fraternity include 60 hours of college credit, a grade of B or better in all social science subjects, at least 12 hours completed toward a social science major, 9 hours of which must be of A grade and 6 hours of senior college level.

Officers for 1947 were: Janet Luhring Dauble, President; Elenora Dyson, Vice-president; and Vivian Koehler Vining, Scribe.

Pi Gamma Mu

Phi Beta Chi

Serving as officers for Phi Beta Chi during the year were Dorothy Julian, President, and Prof. Marchant, secretary-treasurer.

Phi Beta Chi, natural science fraternity, which was organized at Evansville College in 1932, strives to give recognition to distinguished students in natural sciences, to stimulate attainment of high standards of excellence in their regular work, to acquaint its members with unsolved problems of science, and to cultivate an interest in investigation.

To belong to this organization, a student must be at least a second-semester junior majoring in a natural science, be nominated by the faculty, have a grade of A in 50 percent of his major and B or better in related subjects, and show creative ability.

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, was installed on the Evansville College Campus by James G. Johnson, instructor of journalism, on the first of June 1946.

Four new members were initiated into the organization this year. They were: Betty Willner, assistant editor of the LinC, Ray Franks, Editor of Crescent and sports, Anna Muriel Flucks, business manager of the LinC, and Patricia Forsythe, editor of the LinC.

The fraternity was guided by the following officers: Dorothy Hebbeler, President; Polly Martin, vice-president; LaVerne Heady, secretary and historian; and Monica Senecal, grand councilman. Betty Willner was elected secretary and historian for the second semester and Patricia Forsythe served as grand councilman. Mr. Johnson was elected permanent treasurer of the group.

CRESCENT

Editor Ray Franks giving feature instructions to his assistant, Chuck Palmisano.

Under the direction of Editor Ray Franks (second semester) and Monica Senecal (first semester), The Crescent slowly climbed back to the high standard of journalism that Evansville students always pointed to with pride.

James Ritter served as business manager on the paper all year, ably assisted by Bob Mann.

On the editorial side of the paper, frequent stories by Bill Grant, James Rodgers, Bettye Fisher, Glen Hubele, Jon Gundling, and others, made The Crescent readable. Editor Franks' assistants, Arlene Starry, Kilburn Durham, and Jack Nix, kept the copy flowing.

Two former War Correspondents, Glen Stadler (United Press) and Chuck Palmisano (Navy) introduced columns to Crescent readers. The inimitable "Field Marshal," written by Kilburn Durham, livened up many an editorial page.

LinC

The 1946 LinC staff, under the direction of Pat Forsythe, editor, and Mr. Van Winkle, advisor, has attempted to build a yearbook around the history of Evansville, Indiana, and Evansville College. In the opening section and on the division pages special effort was made to show the relationship between city and college, the old and the new, and the support each has given the other.

Top: Editor Pat Forsythe, Advisor Harold Van Winkle, and Asst. Editor Betty Willner at work proofreading.

Staff

Anna Muriel Flucks, business manager of the yearbook, and her staff not only arranged for 32 pages of advertising, but distributed the books and made purchasing arrangements with new students. The LinCs are bought through the first and second semester activity books so students arriving for second semester had to make a back payment.

Connie Koch, as art editor of the 1947 yearbook, had a full schedule drawing the figures of yesteryears, designing the division pages, and selecting the cover of our yearbook.

Top: One of the most strenuous jobs was capably handled by Lois Hyland and Evelyn Cameron, co-editors of the organization section.

Bottom: The business staff looks up from its business at hand. Seated with Business Manager Anna Muriel Flucks are: Bill Hicks, John Hadden, and Bob Miller.

Founded in 1944, the E.C. Press Club is one of the few campus organizations still having its original sponsor — James G. Johnson, director of public relations.

The purposes of the Club are to heighten interest in journalism, improve the abilities of student reporters and to raise the standards of student publications.

The organization initiated a Headliners' Hop this year to which 136 outstanding people on the campus were invited. The affair promises to become an annual one.

The following hold offices in the Club: Dortha Mason, president; Luella Kendall, vice president; Ray Franks, secretary; Zelpha Morrison, treasurer.

The Engineers Club of Evansville College, founded in 1924, was reorganized in the fall semester under the sponsorship of Dr. John Needy, director of technology. Meeting on alternate Wednesday evenings in the Veterans' Lounge, the club has no restrictive membership. All engineering students automatically enter its ranks. The executive committee for the year included John L. Sullivan

Jr., president; William Watkins, vice president; Herbert Grable, secretary; Clement Mason, treasurer.

Activities have included talks by local development, mechanical, electrical, and civil engineers. Being progressive, the group has planned to present talks and motion pictures, out-of-town speakers, and tours of local industries in its program for the coming year.

Under the capable supervision of Prof. Sears the Electronics Club, organized on the campus last fall, accomplished successfully their proposed projects. One of the outstanding features was the construction of the amateur radio transmitter which was put on the air in the early spring. Due to the lack of a permanent location in the new Science building the transmitter was on the air under temporary conditions with the call letters,

W9NVN.

Radio classes were conducted at several of the club meetings with students as well as guest speakers participating. During the summer further research will be carried on to complete the transmitter and the change to voice operation.

Successfully serving as Presidents for the year were, Ben Zieg, first semester, and Bob Decker, second semester.

The newly organized 70-piece Band made its first appearance at the Murray State football game at Bosse Field in October under the baton of Wesley Shepard.

Wearing flashing new uniforms of black and gold, the band performed various marching formations at the remaining football games. The band also appeared at home basketball games, playing before the games and at the half.

Ensembles organized from the band played for various school assemblies, programs, and did some radio work. Soloists in the band played for school events as well as a number of outside programs.

The first concert appearance of the band was made on the New Harmony Lyceum Series, in February. A second concert appearance of the band was at the Annual Spring Concert at the Evansville Coliseum.

The Evansville College Choir, under direction of Mrs. Margaret Shepard, has completed its twentieth year with a record enrollment and varied public performances. The choir, a combination of both men's and women's voices, was founded in 1927; during the war it became an all girls' choir for two years. Its first appearance this year was at the dedication of the cornerstone of the Engineering-Science Building. The choir also provided music for the memorial service honoring alumni and former students who lost their lives in World War II. In addition, the organization has presented several assemblies, provided the traditional music for Eager Heart, and collaborated with the band for recitals at New Harmony and for their annual spring concert.

Officers for the year were: Marvin Hartig, president; June Sauer Mertz, vice president; Mary Etta Van Horn, secretary; Margie Snodgrass, treasurer; Marilyn Ramsey, librarian. Ruth Hobgood, June Mertz, John Robertson, and Marvin Hartig were section leaders.

director. The club met twice weekly. Officers were: Nancy Wilson, president; Miriam Curtis, vice president; Peggy Condit, secretary-treasurer; and Marilyn Husk, accompanist.

On of the younger organizations on campus, the Evansville College Men's Glee Club, was founded in September of last year. Seventeen men met for rehearsal each Monday evening from six to eight o'clock. The group was directed by Howard Dill, instructor in voice.

This year's objectives of the Young Women's Christian Association at the College were furtherance of the worship experiences of the individual and closer cooperation with the community organization. The College group is an affiliate of the national Y.W.C.A.

First of the Y's activities was the annual Big-Little Sister party, with freshman women as guests. With aid from the weatherman, the practice of visiting faculty homes was reinstated. This was followed by the traditional candle-light installation of new members. At Christmas, girls from the Y entertained with parties for the children at Hillcrest and Booker T. Washington homes. Two delegates attended the National Student Christian Assembly at Urbana, Illinois, in December. Faculty members were guests at the annual May Day breakfast.

Officers for the year were Mary Lou Bischmann, president; Shirley Olson, vice president; Pat Weiss, secretary; Helen R. Smith, treasurer. The Y.W.C.A. board is composed of Miss Wahnita DeLong, chairman, Miss Jane Rodman, Mrs. Edgar McKown, Mrs. L. A. Anderson, and Mrs. A. B. Cope.

The cabinet included Betty Willner and Lois Hyland, program; Margaret Wheeler, social; Doris Witt, service; Edna Mae Tiemann, worship; Norma Lee Dunning, publicity; Helen R. Smith, finance; and Shirley Olson, membership.

The College Veterans' Political Association, organized in October of last year, is a non-partisan group. Its purpose is to inform veterans as to the character of candidates for office and as to the nature of their party platforms. During the first semester the organization heard speakers from both major political parties, who discussed personal views and opinions, party platforms, duties of office, and qualifications of office-holders.

Paul Niehaus was president of the group and Janice Albert was secretary-treasurer. Arthur Spence, English instructor, was faculty advisor. Membership for the first year of the VPA's existence exceeded 150.

VETERANS' POLITICAL ASSOCIATION

The members of the Castalian Literary Society proved the words of their Fellowship song — Friendship tried and friendship true — in their program of varied activities of the past year.

The season got under way with a picnic for all the actives at Audubon Park in September. LaVerne Heady, the president for the first semester, was hostess. Later in the month a cosey was held with the Alums in the T-Hut.

The fall rush party was given at the home of Ferry Ann Hall. The sorority's colors, red and white, were used as the color scheme. Helen Nunn, Bonnie Greubel, Joyce Grabbert and Betty Crowder were pledged. First degree was given at the home of Evelyn Cameron.

Martha Blackburn had all the members at her home for a slumber party on October 31 — all night chatting — food and cokes. In November the annual Literary Tea for the Faculty Dames was in the Women's Lounge. Dorothy Cochran was chairman for this event. Mrs. Richard Rosencrantz reviewed "The Later Years of Tolstoy."

At Christmas time the annual party for the Gamma Delta's was held in Saint Paul's Parish Hall. "The Night Before Christmas" theme was used, Eileen Collins, alum, making a very chic Santa in her short skirted costume. The Gamma Deltas received gifts from Santa which had been placed beneath a brightly lighted tree. Such a collection of nighties — pajamas — night caps!!

Sissy Buthod was hostess for a gay pre-holiday party in her basement. The annual Post-exam get-together for Philo's and Castys was the last event of the first semester.

Castalians were in office in many organizations and received many honors during the course of the year. In the fall, Elenora Dyson was elected Football queen by popular vote of the entire student body. Later, in the basketball season Sissy Buthod was maid-of-honor to the Basketball queen.

As for brains, we had those too — Frances New, Elenora Dyson, Dorothy Cochran, and LaVerne Heady were elected to Pi Gamma Mu, and Pat Forsythe and Frances New were elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

LaVerne Heady was president of the Women's Council the first semester and Marilyn Nussmeier was first Vice-President the second semester. Patricia Hubert was President of the Newman Club. In the Secretarial Club Peg Wheeler was prexy with Elenora Dyson as secretary. The A.C.E. was headed by Frances New, Marilyn Nussmeier was secretary and Sissy Buthod was in charge of publicity. The Y.W.C.A. social affairs were planned by Peg Wheeler and Norma Lee Dunning was publicity chairman. Norma Lee was also the treasurer of Alpha Phi Delta. The LinC was edited by Pat Forsythe and Evelyn Cameron was on the staff. The Castalians were well represented in Ace-Capades, the annual college production.

The second semester, with Dorothy Cochran as president, found the Castalians planning for rush week — the party-party time of the year. Sugar Kerlin was rush captain. The formal rush dinner was held in the Gold Room at the McCurdy on February 20th. The following Sunday a pledge tea was given for thirteen pledges and on Tuesday, the 25th, the pledge dinner and first degree initiation were held at the Vendome.

March found the pledges in their most unglamorous state — Hell Week had come. Later in the month third degree was given them. Also about this time the Philo's, Castys, Pi Kappas and Thetas had a big get-together. A good time was had by all!!

The annual formal dance, the biggest event of the entire year, was in April. Sugar Kerlin was chairman. Flowing formals — sweet music — lots of dancing — gay time for everybody!

During the last month of school the Mother's Day Tea was given under the direction of the pledges. Marjorie Mason was in charge of this first activity of our new pledges.

Another big and important year in the history of the Castalian Sorority came to a close with the week-end party which was held at the Newburgh home of Jeanne Underwood.

Theta Sigma Sorority, the first Greek letter society on campus, began its twenty-third year with Marjorie Frederick as president. Miss Ruth Heppel, instructor in botany, accepted honorary membership and served with Miss Pearle LeCompte as faculty sponsor.

In October, Miss LeCompte, who has been with the group for most of its years, was hostess for a meeting.

Mary Joyce Brown was chairman of the fall rush party, a "Dude Ranch" affair. New pledges were Anna Corcoran, Dorothy Kiefer, Mary Martin, Bettye O'Brien, and Mary Alice Peck.

Gifts were presented to Joyce Brown Roberts and Marge Frederick Woodall, who were married during the first semester.

At the conclusion of the football season, Thetas reinaugurated their annual award to the most valuable senior on the squad. This year's award, in memory of Mary Lou Mueller, an alum, was presented to Herman Will. Helen Smith, chairman of the award committee, made the presentation at the football award assembly.

In December, Thetas entertained the Gamma Deltas with a winter party, held in St. Benedict's school basement. Guests were the victims of a "Veracity or Reverberations" program. On December 13, actives and alumnae members observed Founder's Day in the Pioneer Room of the Spaghetti Bowl. The Mary Louise Mueller Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Mary Doris Hayes.

Exchange of gifts and caroling highlighted the Christmas party at the home of Lois Hyland.

Back in January with Dorothy Steiner as president; and the Theta team won the intersociety volleyball tourney.

Miss Marian McLaughlin, honorary member and former sponsor, was guest at the late January meeting.

Dorothy Steiner, rush captain, presided at the formal dinner held in the Hotel McCurdy in February. The pledge tea was held at the home of Betty Berge. Actives did their best to make life miserable for the pledges during Hell Week; but all the pain was taken away by that wonderful pledge dinner and the security which comes with third degree initiation.

Other events of the year included participation in the alumnae radio program, the alumnae style show-bridge, bowling parties, potlucks, hayrides, an early-morning horseback ride followed by breakfast, and a week-end camping trip.

Early in May actives were guests of the alum chapter at a picnic. The active group also entertained the alumnae. Then, the climax of the year's activities was the annual Spring Formal.

Theta Sigma can boast, among its members, officers of Women's Council, YWCA, WAA, ACE, Alpha Phi Delta, and class offices; members of SFF committees, Crescent and LinC staffs; assistants in both the biology and chemistry departments; members active in choir, Philharmonic orchestra, and Thespians. Dorothy Steiner was a Homecoming queen attendant, and Mary Martin was a nominee for basketball queen. Thetas can be found too, in the ranks of the Dean's List: Mary D. Hayes, Helen Smith, Dot Steiner, and Lois Hyland.

As the year draws to a close, Thetas are ever more conscious of their creed, "All sisters are we." And their determination increases to live up to their motto — "Highest of the high."

Theta Sigma Sorority

The Sigs were founded at Moore's Hill College in 1856. Fifteen years later the sorority, originally known as the Sigournean Literary Society, became the Gamma chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta but dropped its national affiliation because of anti-fraternity laws passed by the college. The Sigs reorganized at Evansville College in 1919 and ten years later adopted the Greek letters, Gamma Epsilon Sigma.

This year 1946-1947 with the guidance of our competent sponsor, Miss Leberman, another successful year was added to the ninety-one years of Sig history. Ushering in the football season the Sigs and Phi Zetas were co-sponsors for a "Kick Off Dance" which was held in the Armory. Later, a good time was had by all on an outing at McCarty's cabin.

In October a Halloween Party was given in the co-ed lounge with the aid of the Phi Zetas. Rush captain Dorothy Hebbeler was in charge of the pledge dinner held at the Old Mill for the two new pledges Jackie Schmidt and Elsie Hottenstein. The Gamma Delta "Kiddie Party" gave the Sigs a chance to meet all the new freshman girls and the opportunity came at St. Paul's Parish Hall where the party was given.

During the Christmas holiday the Sigs placed their annual Christmas tree in the front hall and met at Polly Martin's for a party and good fellowship. With the New Year came Rush Week. The formal rush dinner was held February 19 in the Gold Room of the Hotel McCurdy with the theme "Through the Years." The pledge tea given by the alumni was held in the parlor of Trinity Methodist Church the following Sunday. Rush week was formally closed by the Pledge Dinner and First Degree Initiation in the Empire Room, Vendome Hotel.

On March 25 the Sigs entertained their fathers at dinner in the Pompeian Room and later in the month a tea was given in honor of their mothers. In May the annual spring formal and party in honor of the seniors, closed the year's activities.

The Sigs held important offices in Student Government Association, assistant editorship of the LinC, Press Club, Pi Delta Epsilon, Gamma Delta, Alpha Delta, Choir, Secretarial Science Club, S.C.A.; and in fact they were active in all phases of campus life . . . scholastic, honorary, governmental, and social.

Sorority representatives in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges were; Dorothy Hebbeler, Betty Willner, Ruth Hobgood and Edna Mae Tiemann.

Gamma Delta, the society for freshman women, began the year with a membership of eighty. The group is sponsored by Miss Wahnita DeLong, dean of women. Two members of the Women's Council Board also function as student advisors.

Following a get-acquainted picnic, the girls elected the following officers: Sarah Kessler, president; Betty Lou Priest, vice president; Betty Wood, secretary-treasurer.

Among its many activities, Gamma Delta presented a pep assembly, held a Halloween party, and did Christmas caroling. A team from the group participated in the intersociety volleyball tourney. One member, Jo Ann Baird, was chosen Phi Zeta Sweetheart. Of course, there were the traditional parties given by the campus sororities. The Sigs took them back to childhood with a "kid" party; with the Thetas they celebrated the hilarious coming of winter; and at the Casty party, the Deltas awaited the arrival of Santa.

Approach of the new semester meant dissolution of the group, as the girls became eligible to pledge to the established sororities. Culmination of the semester's activities came late in January with the annual Gamma Delta formal, which has become one of the highlights of the E.C. social calendar.

Pi Kappa is a comparatively small fraternity in membership, but in progressiveness and group support, it rates second to no other organization on campus.

The most outstanding event that was unfurled by the group was the completely novel and constructive pledge initiation that came as a welcome surprise to the student body and faculty members. The project that the members undertook was the enlarging of the old inadequate cement trail that connects the administration building and the "famed" T-Hut. Pi Kappa Fraternity decided that it would be more beneficial and significant to put their efforts into something of this nature rather than exhausting themselves at abusing their members.

Several social functions were staged, among them being a very substantial "rush party" comprising a very colorful program of hilarious entertainment. The party was a great success, and the "chosen few" candidates were greatly impressed by the working mechanism and policies of the fraternity, because almost all of the guests pledged Pi Kappa.

Pi Kappa Fraternity is a promising organization, with men of foresight and integrity, linked with fellowship and co-operation to compose a combination that can not miss being an asset to both Evansville College and its members.

The ninety-first year since the founding of Pi Epsilon Phi has been the most successful in Philo history. Organized in 1856 as the Philomathean Literary Society, the number of members has varied from one during the Civil War to 158 in the spring of 1947. The fall semester found the Philos with forty-eight members; but with sixty-two added in September and forty-eight more in February, the new high in numbers was attained.

Phi Alpha, our alumni organization, has become very active, having monthly dinner meetings in addition to picnics, stag parties, and smokers. These are attended by active members, which provides a close relation between the two organizations.

Our prewar sponsor, Dr. Alvin Strickler, has returned from the service, and the Fraternity is also proud of its two new sponsors, Prof. Paul R. Busey and Prof. A. C. Spence.

The social program has been quite full, with very few weeks passing without at least an informal party. Included among these were the fall and spring rush parties, held at Westhaven Gun Club and Servel Gun Club, respectively; parties with the Castalians, Thetas, and Pi Kappas; and other informal get-togethers. The high light of the year was the annual spring formal dinner-dance on May 17 at the Gold Room of the Hotel McCurdy.

Remembering the four cardinal principles of their creed — scholarship, loyalty, service, and fraternity — the members of Pi Epsilon Phi will always promote progress of Evansville College and their fraternity.

This 78th year was a most successful one for Phi Zeta Fraternity . . . With many stalwarts returning from all parts of the world to augment the valiant force who carried the traditions of Phi Zeta so successfully through the war years, it was early seen that this was to be another banner year for the fraternity . . . Pledged 26 very good men in early October from the largest eligibility class in E. C. history and pledged 80 new members in February . . . Hell Week had its traditional hilarity with a project night, scavenger hunt and road trip, and the Saturday night initiation in the gym. . . . Formal initiation followed Pledge Banquet at Vendome on March 16th with Al Hahn, honorary brother, as guest speaker.

Eighth Annual Sweetheart Dance held December 14th in Armory with Bob Carithers as M.C. . . . Prexy Paul Schumaker did the honors by presenting lovely Jo Anne Baird as the Phi Zeta Sweetheart for the year . . . Two bands with continuous music . . . Decoration crew of Walker, Griffith, Grable, Nendel, et al., did fine job with the "barn" . . . The event of the year, the Spring Formal, was held on May 10th . . . Outstanding band . . . Colorful setting . . .

Bob Davies and committee in charge of arrangements.

Started the year with All-Campus Football Party and Halloween party with the Sigs . . . held numerous dances and some very memorable "smokers" . . . another all-campus party in January . . . Another outstanding Phi Zeta Assembly program with Mac Hartig, Wilke and Bising in charge . . . Outstanding participation by the members in varsity football, basketball, baseball and track, again having an "All-American" from the ranks of Phi Zeta.

The fraternity was happy to welcome Prof. John W. Needy as a brother to replace our good friend and brother, Dr. Ernest Van Keuren, who left campus to join the faculty of University of Illinois Extension Service in Chicago . . . When nostalgic memories beckon, we will always recall our colorful association with Dr. Van Keuren.

Throughout the year, Phi Zeta has constantly added to its record of superior leadership and unchallenging fellowship. Its members will long carry with them the strains of the Phi Zeta Fellowship song.

Delmar Pickels (10) is off for a seven-yard gain in Evansville College's 19-to-7 victory over Northern Illinois of DeKalb at Reitz Bowl, November 29. With this game the Purple Aces crowned their season. After six straight victories, they added this seventh, a triumph over the Illinois Intercollegiate champions.

Don Crouch,

Don Galey,

Bill Kessler,

Bill Hicks,

Herman Will,

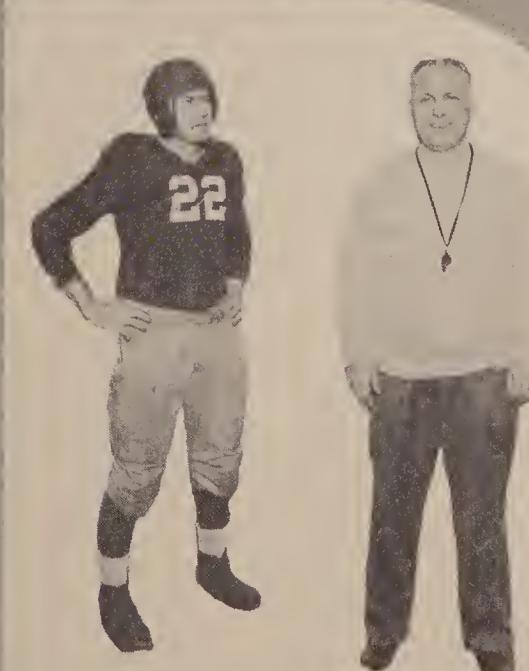

On Thanksgiving Day last November, 9,000 fans at Reitz Bowl cheered as the Purple Aces, during the warm afternoon, closed the most successful football season in the history of Evansville College. The Huskies of DeKalb, Illinois Collegiate champions, fell before Evansville's onslaught, 19 to 7.

The 1946 season opened with two discouraging games; but the Aces then found the way to victory on a road trip, and from there on it was one success after another, climaxed by the exciting Thanksgiving game. The Evansville Aces finished the season with a total of seven victories, two ties, and only one defeat.

Since football was first started at Evansville College, the Aces have been seeking the key to victory. When, in 1925, the Aces under Coach John Harmon soared to their fifth straight victory, it looked as if the precious key had been found; but the lean years that followed proved that the search was not at an end. During those years Evansville was often the doormat for small college teams. In 1939-40, football was at its lowest ebb at E.C. The Aces played twelve consecutive games without scoring a point.

Then war came in 1941, and that was the last season for football at Evansville College until 1946.

Ace field generals Coach Don Ping (left) and Quarterback Gene Logel (right) planning strategy for another Evansville College grid victory.

Don Ping, after a brilliant record as football coach at Memorial High School, came to Evansville College in February, 1946. In Coach Ping the Aces found the Key to Victory, and under his direction they gave the College the greatest football season in its history.

The long search for the key to victory finally came to an end in February, 1946, when Don Ping signed a three-year contract as head coach of the Purple Aces. During his long coaching career, Don Ping had tasted defeat on few occasions. In 16 years at Memorial High School, his teams hung up the amazing record of 118 victories and 9 ties in 149 games.

Almost before the ink was dry on his contract, Coach Ping was busy lining up a Purple and White team. Among those which formed the nucleus that Mr. Ping used to mold the key to victory were Bob Hawkins, Walter Bailey, Hermie Will, Gene Logel, Delmar Pickels, Don Galey, Bill Russler, Bill Hicks, and Willie Kessler. A total of 70 boys responded for his call for candidates for the team.

In the 1946 curtain raiser, an overflow crowd, estimated at 10,000, crowded into Bosse Field and saw the Purple Aces battle the Indians of Cape Girardeau to a scoreless tie.

The Louisville Sea Cards' invasion of the Purple Camp spelled a 13-to-7 defeat for the Aces. Outstanding in the Louisville lineup was Joe Trabue, ex-Henderson High School gridder, and Bill Rommel, graduate of Reitz. Delmar Pickels scored Evansville's lone six pointer, plunging over from the seven-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Aces are off to the races against Southern Illinois Normal at Bosse Field November 9. Evansville won 21 to 7.

ACES 20 — ILLINOIS WESLEYAN 6

(October 5)

Don Ping's Purple Squadron broke into the win column for the first time at Bloomington, Illinois, grinding out a 20-to-6 victory over Illinois Wesleyan.

When Wesleyan marched 76 yards for a score in the opening minutes of the game, it looked like curtains for the Aces; but Evansville bounced back when Delmar Pickels sliced off tackle for three yards and a touchdown after Hermie Will had skirted 38 yards on an end run.

In the fourth quarter, with the ball on the Titan's 30-yard line, Pickels flipped a pass to Francis Hillenbrand, who was thrown out on the Wesleyan 10-yard line. "Pic" then split the middle for the Aces' second touchdown. A third was chalked up by Evansville when Hillenbrand sped 18 yards through the Illinois defense to cross the goal line.

ACES 14 — INDIANA STATE 13

(October 12)

Indiana State's Sycamores, traditional rival of Evansville College, furnished the opposition for the Aces' fourth game of the season.

Trailing 13 to 7 with only seconds to play, the Aces scored to pull the game out of the fire. The dependable toe of Bob Hawkins provided the winning point when he split the uprights.

ACES 7 — MARSHALL COLLEGE 0

(October 19)

The following week the Purple Aggregation departed for the distant hills of West Virginia to engage a Thundering Herd that was rated over our Alma Mater by three or four touchdowns. But when the smoke of battle cleared, there was no joy in Huntington for the Marshall Greenies. The underdog Aces registered a stunning 7-to-0 upset over the highly touted Marshallites. In the final quarter, Don Wile, blond fullback from Salem, Illinois, did a swan dive from the two-yard stripe for the game's only score.

Much of the credit for the well-earned victory should be given to Evansville's Little All-American candidate Bob Hawkins and Quarterback Gene Logel. Hawkins, who performed the punting chores for the College, booted out on Marshall's three-yard line. A moment later Bill Young punted to Evansville's 42, and Logel took the pigskin and scampered down the sidelines to the three-yard stripe, setting the stage for the winning touchdown.

ACES 20 — MURRAY STATE 0

(October 26)

Morale was at a high point when the thrice victorious Aces returned to Bosse Field on October 26 as hosts to the Murray Thoroughbreds. Coach Ping's men struck pay dirt early in the game when Hermie Will sliced off tackle for a score. In the final quarter Delmar Pickels riddled the Kentuckians' forward wall before Bailey dived over from the two-yard line for Evansville's second touchdown. The third came when Dick Holmes, the Sturgis Express, raced 38 yards through the Murray defense for the longest Ace touchdown run of the season.

Willie Kessler, senior guard, was a tower of strength in the Purple forward wall.

ACES 35 — INDIANA CENTRAL 0

(November 2)

The next week the Aces smothered the hapless Indiana Central Greyhounds 35 to 0 in Southport Stadium at Indianapolis. With the Aces scoring almost at will, the Greyhounds were never in the ball game, failing to register even one first down.

ACES 21 — SOUTHERN ILLINOIS 7

(November 9)

E-town's spirits were high for the Homecoming game with Southern Illinois Normal, and the College Eleven came through with flying colors. They scored in the early minutes of the game with Walter Bailey carrying the ball across; and in the last quarter they lashed out to score twice more. Tom Ossenberg, on Ping's famous end-around play, went eight yards for a score, and Morris Riley scored on the age-old sleeper play.

ACES 6 — ARKANSAS STATE 6

(November 16)

Old Jupiter Pluvius entered the Aces' last regularly scheduled game of the season, and with his rain and mud-soaked field slowed down the Aces' attack. Although statistically outplayed in every department, the Arkansas Indians matched the Purple and White point for point in a 6-6 tie.

ACES 19 — NORTHERN ILLINOIS 7

(November 28)

The Purple Grid Warriors said farewell to the 1946 football season Thanksgiving Day by carving up the DeKalb Huskies by the comfortable margin of 19 to 7. Tom Ossenberg, on an end-around reverse from the one-yard line, carried the ball over for a touchdown in the early minutes of the game.

Midway in the fourth quarter Evansville marched 67 yards in four plays for its second touchdown. Bill Russler, 238-pound tackle, intercepted a lateral and ran 30 yards for the last Evansville touchdown of the 1946 season.

Much significance is attached to the Aces' success in 1946 because of the high caliber of their opponents, as compared with those of former years. Marshall College, a powerhouse in the small school class, appeared on their schedule for the first time. Northern Illinois was champion of the Intercollegiate Conference in Illinois. The victory over Indiana State was the Aces' third with that team in 15 games.

What the future holds, no one can say; but it appears to hold much promise. How can we miss when we hold the key to victory, the Ace of Aces, Don Ping?

Aces close in as Southern Illinois player plucks a pass out of the air. Evansville trounced the Maroons 21 to 7 in this game at Bosse Field November 9.

Bill Russler, captain-elect, will guide the Aces in '47.

Don Wile, powerful fullback from Salem, Illinois.

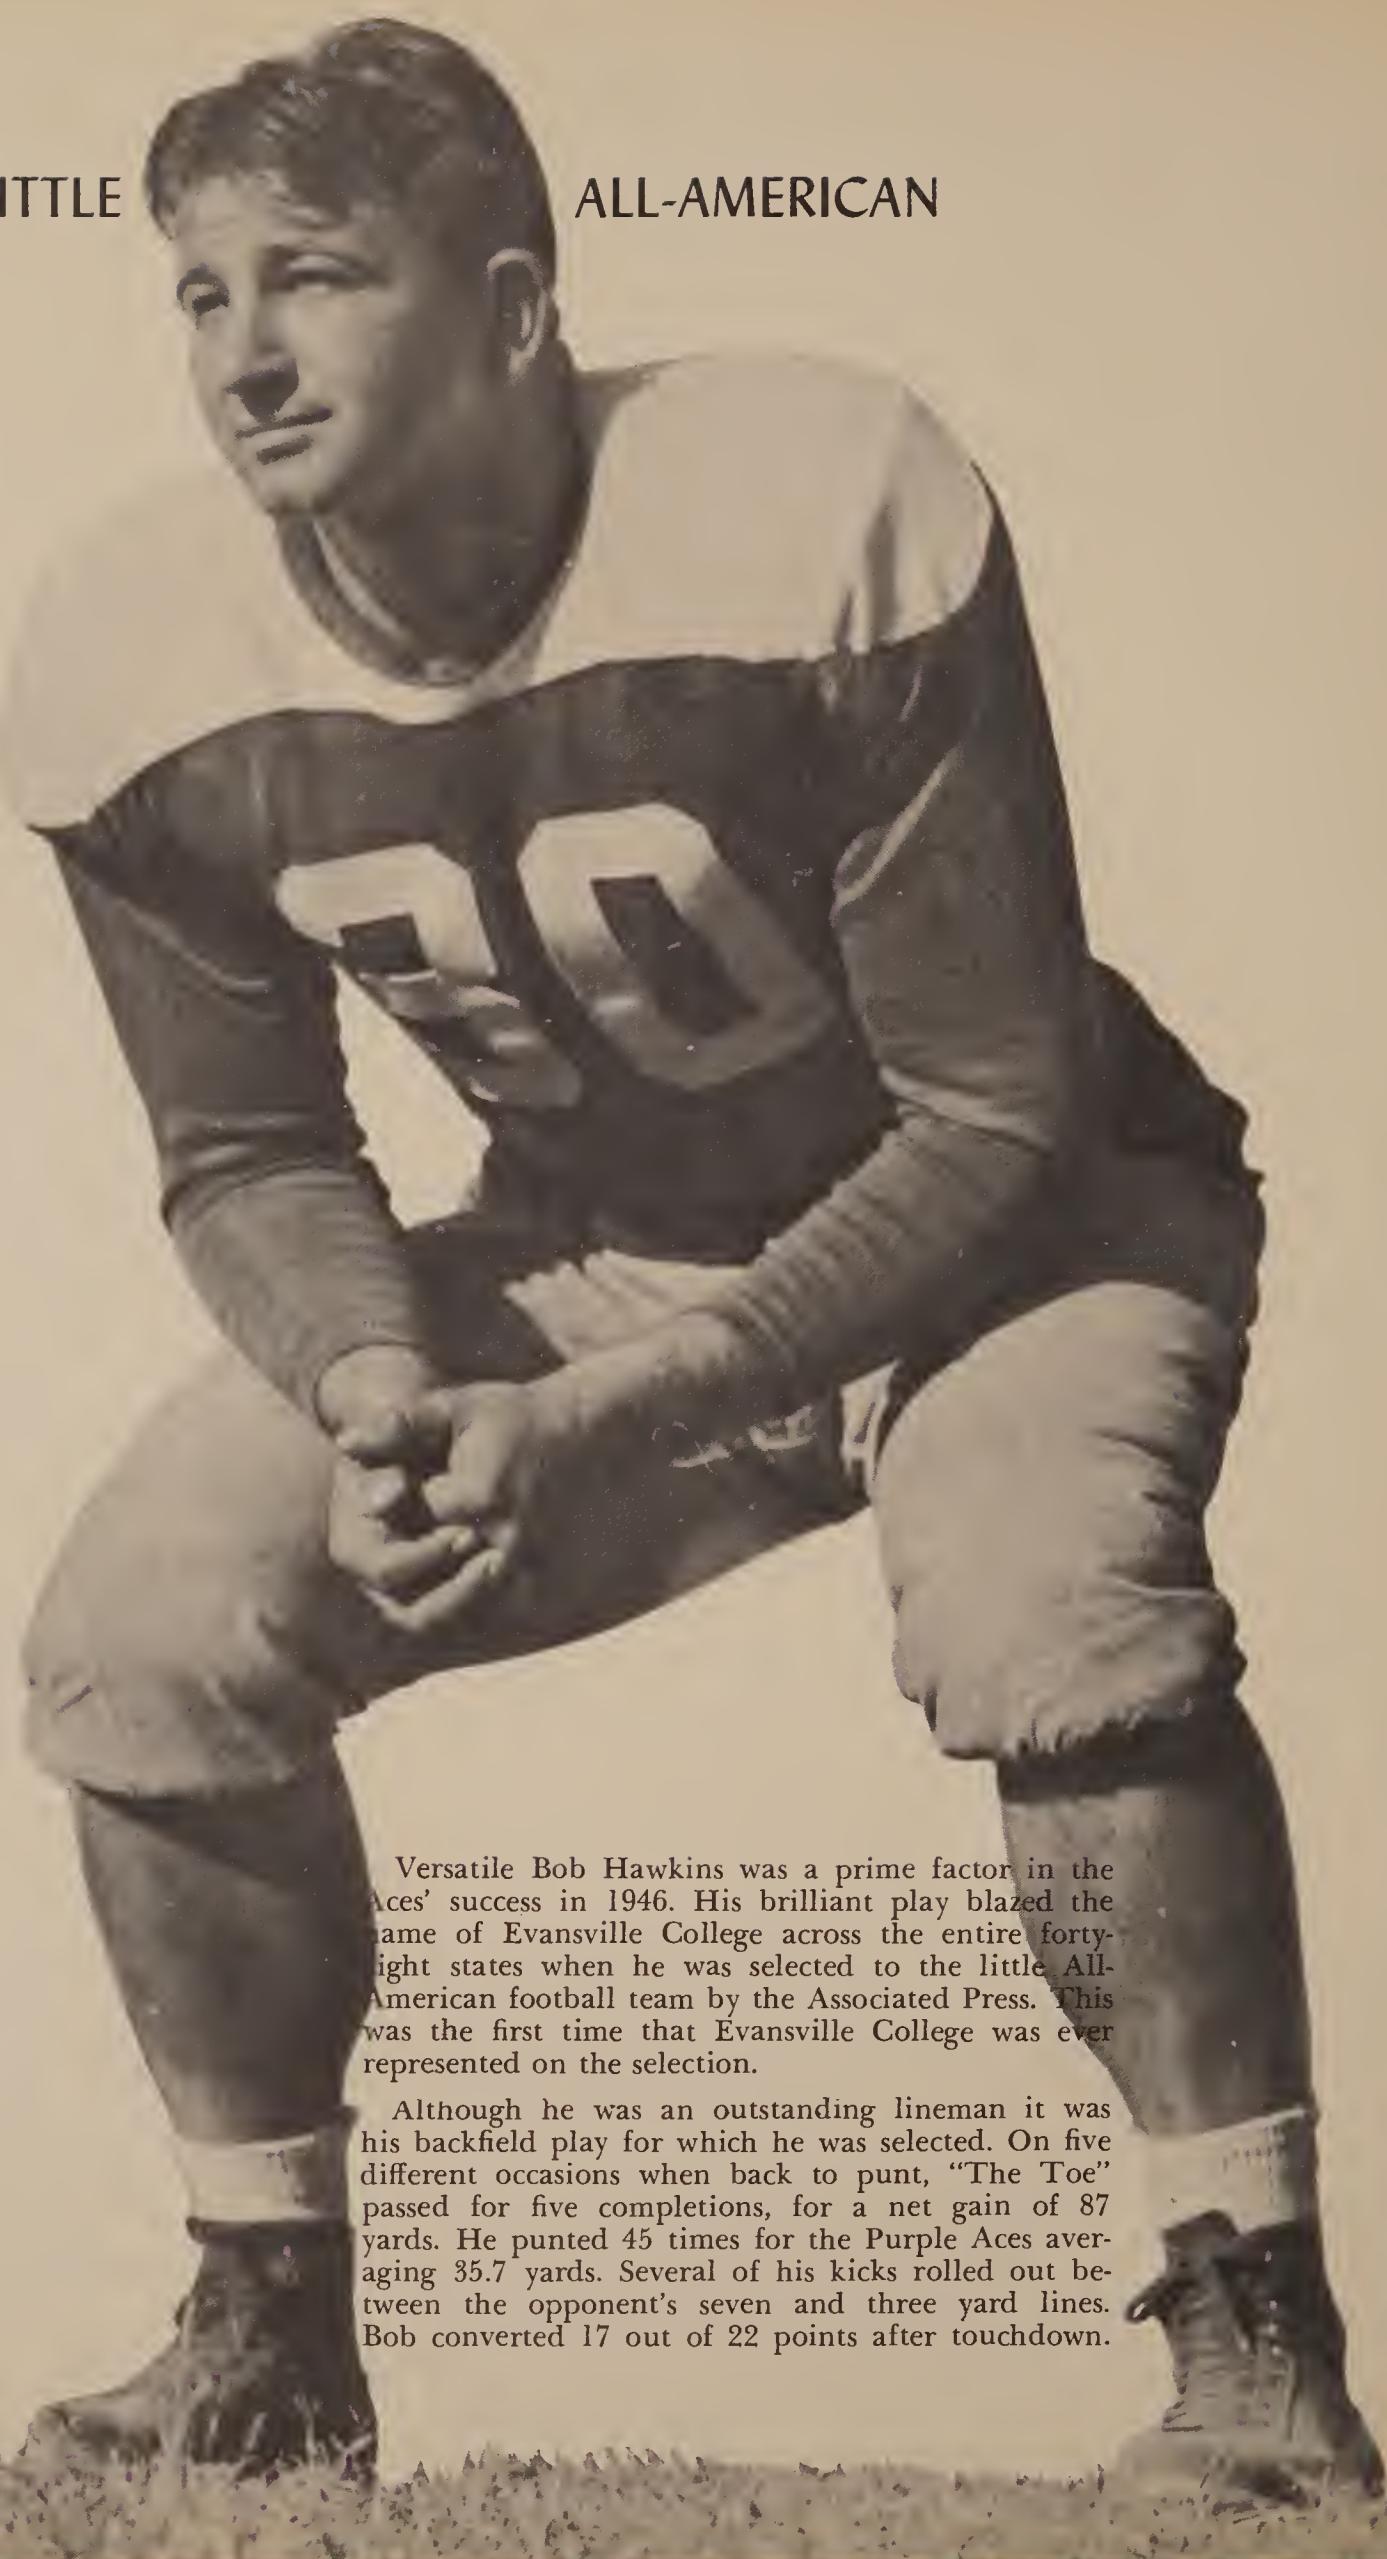

Bob Hawkins, Evansville's Little All-American tackle.

LITTLE

ALL-AMERICAN

Versatile Bob Hawkins was a prime factor in the Aces' success in 1946. His brilliant play blazed the name of Evansville College across the entire forty-eight states when he was selected to the little All-American football team by the Associated Press. This was the first time that Evansville College was ever represented on the selection.

Although he was an outstanding lineman it was his backfield play for which he was selected. On five different occasions when back to punt, "The Toe" passed for five completions, for a net gain of 87 yards. He punted 45 times for the Purple Aces averaging 35.7 yards. Several of his kicks rolled out between the opponent's seven and three yard lines. Bob converted 17 out of 22 points after touchdown.

In and Out with Cagemen

Trying to predict the outcome of the Evansville College basketball games for the 1946-47 season was about as difficult as trying to pick a winner at the races. The outlook was bright when Coach Arad McCutchan's edition of the Purple Aces opened against the Cape Girardeau Indians on December 3. Although the Aces lost this opening game 48 to 43, they started a four-game winning streak with the next game. They brushed aside Georgetown, Indiana Central, Eastern Illinois, and Southeastern Oklahoma to reach the semi-finals in the Mid-West Tournament at Terre Haute.

For a time the Aces looked like sure winners, but suddenly they went into a tailspin, losing seven consecutive games. The next game looked for a while like No. 8 on the loss column, when Indiana State took a 13-to-4 lead in the first few minutes of play. It was then that Coach McCutchan found a winning combination in the three K's — Keener, Kohlmeyer, and Kiefer.

Klicking with the K's

Supported by the speedy play of guards Jack Matthews and Jim Barnett, this combination began to click. It stopped the Sycamores cold, surged back into the lead, and went on to upset the highly touted Indiana State team by a score of 49 to 48.

The following week the K's put the Aces back in the race by soundly trouncing the St. Joseph Pumas, 56 to 44, and thus posting their sixth victory of the season. But the field was too good and Western Kentucky, Louisville, Eastern Illinois, Indiana State, and Southeast Missouri outdistanced them as they neared the finish line.

Coach McCutchan's netters made their final bid in home games to be a winner on February 24, against powerful Marshall College at the Agoga Tabernacle. Marshall, beaten only three times in 27 games, rolled into the Pocket City with a rating high on the list of the nation's leading basketball teams. Lanky Andy Collins, scorching the cords for 27 points, sparked the Aces to a 73-to-69 major upset victory over the Green Wave. Collins was the master of the Marshall tussle and his 27 points was the highest individual effort of any Ace performer for the season.

The unpredictable Aces did an about face the following week, losing to Indiana Central, a club they had defeated earlier in the season. In their final engagement, which was with Miami University there, the Aces were brilliant even in defeat. The powerful Redskins out-scored the Aces 91 to 70, and the curtain came down on the 1946-47 season.

Our hats are off to Russell Goebel,
a fine Athletic Business Mgr.

Deuces Wild

While the College Varsity squad was enjoying only mediocre success, the Junior Varsity, given the name of "Deuces" at the start of the season, established an impressive record of 14 wins in 15 starts. Harold Selm, coach of the Deuces, did a magnificent job of developing a smooth clicking team that was as game as they come. The Deuces lost only at Terre Haute to Indiana State's second squad.

With all letter-winning Aces and Deuces, except one, due to return next season, basketball at Evansville College should reach a high level in the victory columns in 1947-48. These nine Varsity letter winners will be back: Paul Kiefer, Bob Kohlmeyer, Adren Keener, Jack Matthews, Jim Barnett, Joe Hafele, Andy Collins, Morgan Jones, and Harold Stubbs. To back them up will be these five from the Deuces who were awarded "junior" letters: Manford Morrow, Alfred Buck, Russell Day, Paul Schmidt, and Tommy Tucker.

Coach Arad McCutchan had a heavy job all season.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Women's Athletic Association is open to all women on the campus and furnishes an athletic program for many students who are not enrolled in physical education courses but are interested in sports. Miss Ida Steiler is supervisor of W.A.A. and is providing a well-rounded program including: hockey, volleyball, hiking, basketball, swimming, riding, tennis, badminton, archery, softball, bowling, and field ball.

W.A.A. has a team which is in tenth place in the National Telegraphic country, members are: Zelpha Morrison, Mary Helen Gray, Dot Hebbler, Dot Mason, Shirley Olson, Bettye Steinback, Virginia Kerlin, Helen Smith, Dorothy Steiner and Dot Cochran.

Norma Lee Dunning heads the badminton group and was singles champion last year. Betty Willner is the student in charge of the swimming group.

VETERANS!

"In days of old when men were bold"

Dominating the campus this year is not the college playboy of yesteryear, nor idle youth wandering aimlessly with books under arm. He is the veteran of World War II. Instead of College Joe in sporty attire, a grown man in both stature and thought has stepped into the spotlight.

Alert and industrious, this veteran-student is set in his objective in life and is hopeful of the future. He is attentive and industrious in the classroom. When the closing bell rings, he collects his books and papers and leaves the campus to go to a part-time job, or to his home where wife and child are waiting, or to his room to study.

FOR VETERANS
UNDER THE MEAD-LANHAM AMENDMENTS TO
PUBLIC LAW 849, 76th CONGRESS
NATIONAL HOUSING AGENCY
FEDERAL PUBLIC HOUSING AUTHORITY
TO BE OWNED AND OPERATED BY Evansville College

Whatever his name is, the veteran is clearly the hero of the campus in 1947 as he was the hero of battlefields a short time ago. In recognition of him and his influence on college this year, The LinC presents this pictorial sketch of Bill Holcomb, a typical example of the hundreds of ex-G.I.'s at E.C.

Bill is one of the veterans who hang their hats at College Courts, which are the housing units offered to married veterans and their families. This project is sponsored by the Federal government to relieve the acute housing shortage confronting the veteran in college today. Bill finds these quarters adequate for himself, his wife, and their two growing boys.

Bill is rather crowded for time. He is sports editor of The Crescent, weekly college newspaper; has a full schedule of classes; and of course must spend some time at home with his family. But when he does have a few spare minutes, he joins other ex-G.I.'s in the Vets Lounge for a game of cards, some Ping-pong, or an afternoon coke at the snack bar.

This building is conveniently located on the campus, and affords the veterans a lounge and recreational facilities. In a way, the building is a veteran itself, having been built for and used as a Red Cross canteen at the Evansville union station during the war. There tens of thousands of transient servicemen were served free meals during the war years.

Bill finds that a majority of the students in the classroom are veterans like himself, but no attempt is made at segregation. Even among the faculty he will find a number who are also wearing the honorable discharge emblem in their lapel. When Bill finds problems confronting him, he can talk them over at the Veterans' Counseling Agency, where a willing adviser will assist him in every possible way.

As a veteran, Bill receives a monthly subsistence check from the government under the "G. I. Bill of Rights" law. To continue receiving the checks, he must take an approved course, and keep his grades up to a passing level or better. His teachers are asked to make frequent reports regarding his progress to the Veterans' Administration counselor. Bill obtains his school books and other such supplies at the college bookstore at government expense.

Bill occasionally finds time to pay a social call on friends who make their home at Parkside Hall. This, like College Courts, is a government housing project for both married and single veterans. Unlike College Courts, which is on the campus, Parkside Hall is on the west side of the city near Mesker Park.

At Parkside, Bill spends an enjoyable hour in a neatly furnished living room visiting with a married veteran. While he is at Parkside, he calls on friends in the single men's dorm; and later the party goes to the recreation hall for a sandwich, followed by a snappy game of Ping-pong. In the recreation hall are a piano, tables for card games, a shuffleboard court, and easy chairs for informal get-togethers.

Thus, we see that the veteran at Evansville College, married or single, is well provided for by both government and college. In campus activities he is considered just one of the "College Joes", but his added years in growth and maturity allow him to make an even greater contribution to college life than he might have made three or four years ago.

2,000,000 OWNERS WILL TELL YOU, "PICK SERVEL..."

Stays Silent Lasts Longer"

Ask any Servel owners! They'll tell you the famous no-noise, no-wear Gas Refrigerator is 1947's top refrigerator buy because it freezes with no moving parts. Look at its new conveniences, too! A big Frozen Food Locker that stores a bushel basketful of frozen asparagus, limas, steak, ice cream. Plenty of ice cubes, too!

Garden greens actually crisp up in Servel's dew-action vegetable fresheners. Steaks and roasts keep juicy and tender for days in the big Servel meat keeper. There's plenty of space for tall bottles, too. And extra roominess, because clear-across shelves adjust to 11 different positions. (They're Plastic Coated to stay rust-free, scratch-free, easy-to-clean.)

But it's Servel's famous different, simpler freezing system that makes it America's stand-out refrigerator investment. There isn't a single moving part in its freezing system. No machinery, valves, pistons or pumps to wear or get noisy. A tiny gas flame does the work. Any of Servel's 2,000,000 owners will advise you, "Pick Servel. It stays silent, lasts longer."

Even STEEL Goes to College

Yes, even steel goes to college, for it takes a lot of steel to construct beautiful, long-lasting, fireproof buildings like the new Engineering and Science Building at Evansville College.

International Steel Company, supplier of the steel for this newest hall of learning, is pleased to be associated with the College program for growth, because Evansville College is an honored institution in the educational field. It has contributed much to public enlightenment and to its community. Its development plans assure increasingly greater service in years to come.

A part of these plans has now been realized with the completion of the Engineering and Science unit, the result of aggressive and united effort of many men and organizations toward a greater Evansville College . . . and a greater Evansville. It is but one of numerous manifestations of the progressive spirit of our community.

International Steel Company is proud to have played a part in making Evansville College's physical facilities as enduring as the institution itself.
